

UPPER WING PANEL
GRAIN OF CLOTH ↔

A hand-drawn technical diagram of an upper wing panel. The panel is a long, narrow, tapered shape, wider at the left end and narrower at the right end. The top edge is a straight line sloping downwards from left to right. The bottom edge is a straight line sloping downwards from left to right, but it has a vertical step down on the left side. A horizontal double-headed arrow is drawn below the text, indicating the grain of the cloth.